

World Economic Forum and Chatham House Workshop: Scenarios for the Russian Federation

Tuesday 18 September 2012, 12:15-17:00

Name	Affiliation	Group
1. Duncan Allan	Foreign & Commonwealth Office	Blue
2. Pavel Andreev	Valdai Club Foundation	Green
3. Anastassia Aubakirova	World Economic Forum
4. Andrew Bishop	World Economic Forum
5. Marie Bonnenfant	EBRD	Red
6. Michael Bradshaw	University of Leicester	Blue
7. Laurence Broyd	Foreign & Commonwealth Office	Red
8. Neil Buckley	Financial Times	Blue
9. David Clark	The Russia Foundation	Blue
10. Richard Connolly	CREES, University of Birmingham	Blue
11. Julian Cooper	CREES, University of Birmingham; Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House	Red
12. Mary Dejevsky	The Independent	Green
13. Irina Demchenko	RIA Novosti	Red
14. Tina Fordham	Citi	Green
15. Keir Giles	Conflict Studies Research Centre	Blue
16. Katia Glod	Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House	Red
17. Charles Grant	Centre for European Reform	Blue
18. Philip Hanson	CREES, University of Birmingham; Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House	Red
19. Josef Hargrave	Arup Consulting	Red
20. Minna Jarvenpaa	Open Society Foundation	Green
21. Laza Kekic	The Economist Intelligence Unit	Green
22. Jana Kobzova	European Council on Foreign Relations	Green
23. Pawel Konzal	World Economic Forum
24. Trudi Lang	World Economic Forum
25. Christopher Le Fevre	Le Fevre Consulting Ltd	Blue
26. Orysia Lutsevych	Independent Analyst	Green
27. Mark McCrory	Royal Dutch Shell	Green
28. Stephan Mergenthaler	World Economic Forum
29. Alex Nice	GPW Ltd	Red
30. James Nixey	Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
31. Craig Oliphant	Saferworld	Green
32. Holly Pattenden	Statoil	Red
33. Lubica Pollakova	Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
34. Slavo Radosevic	SSEES, University College London	Red
35. Nick Redman	International Institute for Strategic Studies	Green
36. Hratch Tchilingirian	University of Oxford	Green
37. Elizabeth Teague	Formerly Foreign & Commonwealth Office	Blue

38. Katerina Tertychnaya	Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
39. Michelle van der Burg	Unilever	Red
40. Kristel Van der Elst	World Economic Forum
41. Dieter Wermuth	Wermuth Asset Management	Blue
42. Geir Westgaard	Statoil ASA	Blue
43. Ngaire Woods	University of Oxford	Blue
44. Shamil Yenikeeff	Oxford Institute for Energy Studies	Green

Workshop: Scenarios for the Russian Federation

18 September 2012
Chatham House, London

The World Economic Forum's Scenarios for the Russian Federation will be released at its Annual Meeting in Davos in January 2013. The report will explore scenarios for Russia's future economic development as well as their implications. This workshop will provide an important input into shaping these scenarios.

AGENDA

- 12:15- 13:00 Arrival, lunch served
- 13:00- 13:20 Welcome and introduction
James Nixy, Manager and Research Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
Kristel Van der Elst, Head of Strategic Foresight, World Economic Forum

SESSION 1

-
- 13:20-15.30 Plenary discussion on major drivers for the Russian economy
Roundtable with interaction among experts
Julian Cooper, Associate Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House

Break-out groups: Challenging and developing the scenarios
Introduction to the scenario framework
Three break-out groups, each focusing on a scenario

Plenary session on the three scenarios
Presentation and reflection on the development of the scenarios
Philip Hanson, Associate Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
Kristel Van der Elst, Head, Strategic Foresight, World Economic Forum

-
- 15:30-16:00 Coffee

SESSION 2

-
- 16:00-17.00 Plenary discussion on the implications of the scenarios for Russia's economic development
Identification of major policy options indicated by the scenarios
Julian Cooper, Associate Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House
Stephan Mergenthaler, Lead, Scenarios for the Russian Federation project, Associate Director, World Economic Forum

Conclusion
Kristel Van der Elst, Head of Strategic Foresight, World Economic Forum
James Nixy, Manager and Research Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Programme, Chatham House